About Us

We are a digital agency from India, specializing in "on demand" mobile, web and PC application development using cutting edge technologies. Along with that we have expertise in blockchain application development and cloud computing as well.

Driving the growth of SMEs and Startups using the power of technology has been the most intriguing experience in our journey. We deliver digital transformation solutions.

Contributing towards a greener earth by replacing paperwork based manual workflow by internet enabled web and mobile apps is our specialty. We have about 60 people working together inspired by this vision.

Being a software engineer with a management degree, my personal vision has always been to utilize technology for business growth.

Moving ahead, this vision inspired me to lay the foundation of Pitangent Analytics, the heart of which beats with the same goal, where myself, along with my colleagues are working tirelessly to assist our clients to achieve digital success. Let's sit over a cup of coffee and start another success story!
